TRUST

CREATING A BENCHMARK IN PHILANTHROPY

In 2015 The Cape Wine Auction Trust approved funding of all monies raised to nineteen beneficiaries working throughout the Cape Winelands. The Trustees spent a number of months refining their mandate of supporting education in the South African winelands.

At a time when South African education is in crisis and donor fatigue is on the rise, they went in search of a new giving model, one which focuses on maximum impact and long-term sustainability. The nineteen beneficiaries have been strategically selected for the role that each plays within the holistic cycle of education. The Trust looked at education from cradle to career.

Beneficiaries are invited to collaborate and interact with each other, both in person at quarterly workshops, and online via a digital platform. This methodology is in direct contrast to the traditional one of working in "silos", which has proven to be less than efficient in educational interventions.

The Trustees believe that this model of collaboration and beneficiary interaction will result in less duplication, increased economies of scale and better use of assets. The Trustees are committed to creating an innovative model of philanthropic support, which delivers a return on social investment by way of impact and measurable change.

Our amazing trustees.

BELIEVE IN CHANGE

“The Cape Wine Auction Trust mandate is to support education in the South African Winelands.”

The first Cape Wine Auction Trust beneficiary workshop took place on Friday the 11th of September 2015. We have committed the first R10 million. The AfrAsia Bank Cape Wine Auction is proud and privileged to be funding and supporting such an amazing group of people. All the supported charities are focused on raising the levels of education and creating meaningful opportunities for the youth of the South African Winelands.

Please take a moment over the next few pages to familiarise yourself with our beneficiaries and the incredible work they do.

“We often think of charity as an action. But I think of charity as a state of the heart.”

Our 2016 CHEFS

The 2016 culinary team is led by the cream of the crop of South Africa's gastronomic maestros. So prepare yourself for a sensory experience like never before.

PETER TEMPELHOFF AT CWA2015

Peter Tempelhoff

Kitchen maestro and Head Honcho, Peter Tempelhoff is the taste architect and ingredient innovator behind each delectable creation served at Greenhouse.

His approach to food is simple - "If it is not the best it can be, it doesn't belong on the menu!" It is an approach which he stakes his reputation on every day, and one that has garnered him with many enviable awards and accolades over the years.

This approach to cooking is evident in each of the restaurants Peter oversees in The Collection. Be it the elegant gastronomic Greenhouse, or the simplistically precise SeaFood at The Marine, perfection is the ultimate goal that Peter's food aspires to.

He continues to explore, understand and re-imagine what South African food can be by investigating local flavour through ingredients specific to his locale. In his words, all he has to do now is "keep innovating, keep coming up with new things, new dishes, new flavours, and always keep stretching the boundary".

PJ Vadas

Raised in Knysna, PJ's first job was with Gordon Ramsay in London and he went on to open Ramsay's New York restaurant in 2007. Then working with Angela Hartnett at The Connaught, Roger Verge's La Moulin de Mougins and returning to South Africa he brought his knowledge and experience to the position of Executive Chef at his parents well loved restaurant Pembrey's. PJ established the Roundhouse in Camps Bay and ran it for four years before going on to be the Executive Chef at Camphors at Vergelegen. Both adventures earned him Eat Out top ten awards.

PJ's evolution towards setting up Hoghouse has been a personal desire to serve good, old-fashioned comfort food, where the flavours of the food are not interfered with and the environment is understated enough to let the food do the talking.

His kitchen philosophy is to support local economy by buying from local producers that use ethical and sustainable practices.

Introducing the Friday night BARREL AUCTION

The Friday Night Barrel Auction is your chance to own a truly one-of-a-kind wine. Some of the Cape's top wine-makers have made their most exclusive wines available.

Taste right from the barrel, sign up as a bidder, place your bid and watch the drama unfold as the crowd tries to outbid each other! Don't miss this rare opportunity to taste, and own, a masterpiece of South African winemaking.

How it works

Bid on a case of your favourite wine. Bidding starts at R2 000 per case. Each new bid must increase by a minimum of R500. Each new high bid is posted at the top position on the leaderboard and knocks the lowest bid out of the top ten. Bid as often and on as many lots as you wish. The top ten bids for each winery at the end of Friday evening will each win one case (twelve 750ml bottles) of the wine. Remember: It is the top ten bidders who win a case of wine, not just the highest bidder.

Wines offered in the Barrel Auction are priced and sold per case and do not include the barrel.
Please note: You will only receive the wine once it has been released by the winemaker.

See our Auction Terms and Conditions for more information.

The Iconic Ouwingerdreeks Lot by Eben Sadie & William Kentridge

AUCTION AMBASSADORS - Eben Sadie & William Kentridge

In 2010 the Old Vine Series (Ouwingerdreeks) was released in South Africa. They turned the world's attention to the historic vineyards of the Cape and catalysed the new wave of old vine bottlings, in some cases from lesser known varieties.

The six wines of the Ouwingerdreeks produced by Eben Sadie was one of the more significant releases in modern Cape winemaking. Made in tiny quantities, and sold expensively only in this boxed set, few wine lovers will ever get to taste them, unfortunately. But all those who value the traditions and culture of South African winemaking surely participate in welcoming a brilliant collection of wines, made from some of the country's oldest vineyards - whose number is sadly declining.

The labels were designed with drawings especially created by South Africa's most notable artist, William Kentridge, after a visit to the vineyards, to commemorate the maiden release of the Ouwingerdreeks. This set was signed by William Kentridge and Eben Sadie, together with a rare poster of the six labels, which they also signed. The rarity and collectability of this lot is heightened as Kentridge and Sadie only ever signed five sets of bottles.

A truly unique opportunity to acquire a part of South African vinous history

B. GENERAL TERMS AND RULES OF AUCTION

Every auction and/or sale shall be governed by these terms, section 45 of the Consumer Protection Act 68 of 2008 (“the Act”) and the rules of auction and in accordance with the laws of South Africa.

The provisions of section 45 reads as follows:

1. Auctions
In this section, “auction” includes a sale in execution of or pursuant to a court order, to the extent that the order contemplates that the sale is to be conducted by an auction.

- i. When goods are put up for sale by auction in lots, each lot is, unless there is evidence to the contrary, regarded to be the subject of a separate transaction.
- ii. A sale by auction is complete when the auctioneer announces its completion by the fall of the hammer, or in any other customary manner, and until that announcement is made, a bid may be retracted.
- iii. Notice must be given in advance that a sale by auction is subject to:
 - i. A reserved or upset price; or
 - ii. A right to bid by or on behalf of the owner, in which case the owner or auctioneer, or any one person on behalf of the owner or auctioneer, as the case may be, may bid at the auction.
- iv. Unless notice is given in advance that a sale by auction is subject to a right to bid by or on behalf of the owner or auctioneer:
 - i. The auctioneer must not bid or employ any person to bid at the sale;
 - ii. The auctioneer must not knowingly accept any bid from a person contemplated in paragraph A.1.5 (a); and
 - iii. The consumer may approach a court to declare the transaction fraudulent, if this subsection has been violated.
- v. The Minister may prescribe requirements to be complied with by an auctioneer, or different categories of auctioneer, in respect of:
 - i. The conduct of an auction;
 - ii. The records to be maintained with respect to property placed for auction; and
 - iii. The sale of any such property by auction.
2. The rules of the auction are those promulgated in terms of the Regulations promulgated by the Minister of Trade and Industry dated 23 November 2010 under Government Gazette No. 33818 on 1 April 2011 and any subsequent amendment and/or variation to the rules and these terms.
3. The auctioneer is the agent for the CWA.
4. These conditions of Purchase, as amended by addenda or oral announcements during the sale, constitute the entire terms and conditions of seller with respect to the sale and purchase of auction lots listed herein. By bidding, the bidder agrees to be bound by these Conditions of Purchase.
5. Seller does not warrant or represent, expressly denies responsibility for, and in no event shall be liable for, the accuracy of the description of the wines (or other items) offered, or the correctness of the catalogue, including, but not limited to: the origin, rarity, age, genuineness, quantity, aging potential, present and future quality or condition of wines offered.
6. All bids are per lot as announced by the auctioneer, listed in the catalogue.
7. All statements by seller are merely statements of opinion and are not to be relied upon by prospective purchasers as warranties or representations of fact, and prospective bidders, by so bidding, acknowledge that they have inspected the wines to their satisfaction and bid only as a result of their own inspection and opinion. All wine is sold on strictly a “Voetstoots” basis.

8. Auctioneer may, at any time prior to the close of any auction (or fall of the gavel in a live auction), withdraw the lot from sale.
9. Auctioneer shall have the right to reject any bid at any time prior to the close of any auction (or fall of the gavel in a live auction). Bids will be accepted only from registered bidders.
10. In the event of there being a discrepancy between the rules and the terms herein, the rules shall be operative and overriding.
11. Every bid constitutes an offer, open for acceptance by the Auctioneer and such acceptance shall be signified by the fall of the hammer, or by the acceptance of the offer by The CWA in the event of a private sale.
12. Buyers are solely responsible to satisfy themselves prior to auction/ private treaty sale as to the condition of each lot and should exercise and rely on their own judgement as to whether the lot accords with the description or not.
13. Any lot which proves to be a ‘deliberate forgery’ (which will only be the case if an expert appointed by The CWA for such purposes confirms same in writing) may be returned by the Buyer (as his sole remedy hereunder or at law) to The CWA within 21 day of the date of auction in the same condition in which it was at the time of the auction, accompanied by a statement of defects, the number of the lot, and the date of the auction at which it was purchased. If The CWA is satisfied that the item is a ‘deliberate forgery’ and that the Buyer has and is able to transfer a good and marketable title to the lot, free from any third-party claims, the sale will be set aside and any amount paid in respect of the lot will be refunded, subject to the express condition that the Buyer will have no rights or claims against The CWA if:
 - i. the description in the catalogue at the date of the sale was in accordance with the then generally accepted opinion of scholars and experts or fairly indicated that there was conflict of such opinion; or
 - ii. the only method of establishing at the date of publication of the catalogue that the lot was a deliberate forgery was by means of a scientific process not generally accepted for use until after publication of the catalogue, or by a process which was unreasonably expensive or impractical;
 - iii. Buyer’s claiming under this condition will be limited to any amount paid in respect of the lot and will not extend to any loss or damage of whatsoever nature suffered or expense incurred by him/her;
 - iv. the benefit of this condition will not be assignable and will rest solely and exclusively in the Buyer who, for the purpose of this condition, will be and only be the person to whom the original invoice is made out by The CWA in respect of the lot sold. The CWA will have the sole, exclusive and absolute right, at its discretion to refuse admission to any person to its premises or any other premises at which such auction is to be conducted.
14. The CWA has the sole and absolute discretion without having to give any reasons therefore, to refuse any bid, withdraw or reoffer lots for auction

(including after the fall of the hammer, cancel any sale if the Auctioneer and/or The CWA believes that there may be an error or dispute of any nature whatsoever, and shall have the right, as it deems fit, to divide any lot, to combine any two or more lots, or to put up any lot for auction again. Any notice required to be given in connection with this agreement:

- i.* if given by The CWA, shall be delivered by hand, or sent by registered post; or by email, provided such address is given in which event such address shall constitute the domicilium et citandi et executandi of the person to whom notice must be given. Notice shall be deemed to have been received by the person who is required to receive such notice, whether given personally or to a third party or any other manner as envisaged by this clause:
 - i.* on the date of delivery if delivered by hand or email;
 - ii.* on the seventh (7th) day from the date of posting, including the date of posting, if posted by prepaid registered post from within the Republic of South Africa, which postage shall be deemed to have been sent on receipt of the post office of proof of posting.
15. If required by The CWA, such written notification must be given to The CWA at its email address as published in the brochure, alternatively The CWA's published address and/or telephone number.
16. The Seller submits to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the South African courts.
17. The Buyer and/or Seller, as the case may be, hereby pledges the goods either sold and/or bought as security to The CWA for amounts which are owing to it.
18. No variation, alteration, consensual termination, representation, condition, term or warranty, relaxation or waiver or release by The CWA, or estoppel against The CWA, or the suspension by The CWA, in respect of these terms and conditions of business, or any part thereof, shall be of any force or effect unless reduced to writing and signed by The CWA and the Buyer.
19. The Buyer shall be responsible for the payment of The CWA's legal costs, calculated on the scale as between attorney and client, incurred by The CWA in enforcing any of its rights of its principal whether such rights are exercised by way of legal proceedings or not.
20. Notwithstanding the nature or amount of the claim by The CWA, The CWA and the Buyer hereby consent to the jurisdiction of the Magistrate's Court otherwise having jurisdiction; this consent is without prejudice to the right of The CWA to institute proceedings and to obtain judgment or any order in the High Court of competent jurisdiction, The CWA nevertheless still being entitled to claim on the High Court scale of costs and expenses, all as set out in this agreement.
